inspiring journey is of Devbrat Dhar Dwivedi. Before joining Galway, he was lost in life, but today, he is helping many others find their path to success.

Let's explore his journey of becoming a successful businessman and a better person with Galway.

Days of Daily Wage Labor

Devbrat Dhar Dwivedi hails from Bahraich, Uttar Pradesh. Before joining Galway, he worked as a daily wage laborer in Punjab, painting houses and earning just 100-150 per day. Life was uncertain, and facing insults from employers had become a routine. He was also pursuing studies but found no motivation. His dreams were big, but he saw no way to achieve them.

One day, a friend of his elder brother introduced him to Galway and suggested attending a seminar. Devbrat, frustrated with his life and bad company, decided to give it a try. He was desperate to escape his harsh reality and regain his lost confidence.

Hunger for Respect

Devbrat's father was a doctor, and he felt ashamed that he couldn't do anything respectable like him. When he attended a Galway seminar in Gaya, Bihar, in 2012, he saw a new path for his life.

The most attractive part of this business for him was long term security. Unlike daily wage work, which had no stability, Galway offered a bright future for generations. Another motivation was the transformation in appearance shifting from dirty work clothes to a suit and tie, selling premium Galway products.

Now, when he wears a tie and conducts training sessions, he feels a deep sense of pride. His father, who once ignored him, now looks at him with respect.

Journey from Rags to Riches

Devbrat joined Galway in 2012, training under his mentor Kush Kumar, much like Eklavya's dedication to Dronacharya. With a deep understanding of Galway products and unwavering hard work, he quickly rose from being a struggling laborer to a successful businessman. His original goal was to reach the RD level in five years, but his commitment allowed him to achieve it in just three. The rewards surpassed his expectations: he upgraded from a 67,000 Super Splendor bike to 2 lakh Bullet, from a ₹16 lakh Kia Carens to funding his sister's wedding and home construction, and spent over 15 lakhs on his own home. His remarkable journey is a testament to how Galway transforms lives. This journey proves that Galway truly transforms lives.

When Devbrat started, even his father advised against it, fearing failure. Friends and relatives also discouraged him. But he stayed focused on his training and self-belief. Today, his father blindly trusts his decisions.

His advice to his team that Rejections will come, but respond with success!

The Real Power of Galway Business

Today, Devbrat is financially strong enough to bear wedding expenses on his own. More importantly, he has become a better person. He left behind bad habits and now helps the needy.

A significant achievement for him was refusing to take dowry in his marriage. Many flaunt their dowry cars, but he bought his dream car with his own earnings before marriage.

This is the power of Galway, it not only builds wealth but also instills values and discipline. His way of thinking, dressing and speaking has transformed completely. Now, he believes that every dream can come true with Galway!

Always with the Team

While working as a laborer, Devbrat saw many others struggling like him. After his success, he brought 10 people into his team and changed their lives too. Three of them have already reached RD level.

His younger brother is also a proud Galwian at RD level. As a trainer, Devbrat participates over 150 seminars per month and has received multiple certifications from Galway. Under RRR culture, he recently took his team to visit the Taj Mahal in Agra. He believes in celebrating success with his team through outings, movies, and dinners.

He further says, I tell the team that if you want to succeed in Galway business, then do not take shortcuts but move ahead with a long term vision. Apart from this, unless you yourself become a role model of success, your team will also not follow you. My own experience says that in the outside world there is more hard work but very little money and respect, but in Galway, money and respect are earned along with hard work, so there is no better business opportunity than this business.

Today my journey has reached from a monthly wage of Rs 3000 to an incentive of 75 thousand and my resolution is that this year I achieve DD level, earn incentives of lakhs, buy my dream car BMW, as well as travel abroad and fill the colors of reality on the canvas of all my dreams.

Meditation: The Key to a Healthy Lifestyle

In today's fast-paced life, stress, anxiety, and unhealthy lifestyles have become common problems. Work pressure, irregular eating habits, and mental unrest are making people physically and mentally weak. In such a scenario, meditation proves to be an effective solution. It not only provides mental peace but also improves overall health.

Experts believe that practicing meditation reduces stress levels and brings calmness to the mind. It helps in controlling blood pressure, keeping the heart healthy, and strengthening the immune system. Meditation also enhances concentration and memory, improving work efficiency and productivity.

Regular meditation helps in overcoming insomnia, ensuring deep and restful sleep. Additionally, it keeps the body energized and helps maintain emotional balance. Various studies have proven that meditation lowers the stress hormone cortisol, making a person feel more peaceful and happy.

Keeping human well-being as a priority, Galway Business's CSR initiative, Galway Foundation, has been organizing offline and online meditation training under its Self-Empowerment Program (SEP) for many years. Continuing this effort, in January 2025, SEP-certified trainers Mankunwar, Chayana Kaushal and Ramkishan Kaivartya trained over 500 people through online sessions.

During these training sessions, the trainers guided participants on mental purification, the flow of positive energy, and various other essential aspects of meditation. They also conducted live meditation sessions to help people experience its benefits firsthand.
