

Galway Shows the Way to Live the Life You Dream

Arun Kumar Yadav LDD Deoghar, Jharkhand

*Once my pockets had nothing inside
But I dreamed of a shiny car with pride
Lived under a small roof, not so grand
But saw a big bungalow in dream of land
Wanted to fly and see the world bright
But chains of poverty held me tight.*

This is the story of Arun Kumar Yadav, now an LDD in Galway Business, whose dreams were once fragile threads woven with struggle. He fought relentlessly to break the chains of poverty, working three jobs at once, yet life kept testing his resolve. But Arun's dreams never let him sleep peacefully. And then, Galway Business knocked on his door offering not just hope, but the right platform.

That was the beginning of a transformational journey. The man who once worried about fulfilling even basic needs now owns a luxury car worth lakhs, a lavish bungalow, and has the means to travel abroad. The driving force behind this transformation? His unshakable belief in Galway Business.

Let's dive into the inspiring journey of Arun Kumar Yadav, from an ordinary man to an extraordinary Galwian achiever.

Madhupur to Multi Trips

Born in the small village of Madhupur in Deoghar, Jharkhand, Arun led a humble life. While his resources were limited, his dreams were boundless. As someone born in a middle class farmer's family, he never imagined that one day he would trade the dusty village lanes for international skies and golden beaches. But the path to success wasn't without hardships.

Moving from town to town, juggling responsibilities and hunting for identity, he faced the kind of struggles that test every dreamer. Yet, his spirit remained undefeated. He knew that if he kept going, success was inevitable.

A Life of Relentless Struggles

Arun's journey began with working alongside his uncle in Delhi. Then, he shifted to embroidery work in Santipur, Kolkata, and later became a Chinese cook in Hyderabad. From being a salesman to working in kitchens, he tried it all but nothing changed his circumstances.

His only wish was to give his family a better life. When a friend from his village introduced him to Galway Business, he realized for the first time what no job had ever taught him, how to earn money smartly. That realization became his turning point. From that day on, he committed himself to the Galway journey with honesty and a passion for learning.

Galway Gave Life a New Purpose

On 12 November 2016, Arun began his Galway Business. He had no team, no experience, just a burning desire to learn and succeed. He says, I didn't understand business much at first, but once I got the complete system, business plan, training modules, and got introduced to Galway's amazing products, things began to fall into place.

In 2018, he lost his father, and the entire responsibility of the household fell on him. Many break down in such times, but Arun turned Galway into his strength and life's mission. He focused on team building, attended every training and slowly established himself as a strong leader. He believes that Life tests you to help you prove yourself.

The Power of Training

For Arun, Galway's training sessions were life changing, whether in business, leadership or product knowledge. He especially credits the concept of leverage income, which completely changed his mindset. He says that Galway products transformed my life. My entire family uses and trusts them,

No longer confined to the limitations of a job, Arun had now embraced a path of self-reliance. Today, he's an active trainer, constantly mentoring his team to become self-sufficient. He says that When you learn, teaching others becomes a joy. That's the beauty of Galway Business.

Galway Changed my Life

The moment he started climbing the ladder in Galway, Arun took charge of his destiny. After reaching the RD level, he bought his dream bike Yamaha R15. As an LDD, he fulfilled long cherished goals, a dream car Tata Curvv worth 15 lakhs, a stunning house built for around 23 lakhs, and land purchased in the city. Gone are the days of rented homes. Today, Arun lives in his own house and he credits it all to Galway.

His journey doesn't stop there. Thanks to Galway's travel fund, he's traveled across India from Odisha and Puri to Delhi and Darjeeling. But his most cherished memory? Flying to Thailand, an experience he never imagined. And now, he's qualified for the Dubai trip in July 2025.

Keep Learning

Arun attributes his success to the founders, directors, and seniors of the company, especially Mr. Mundrika Gop and Mr. Bhairav Mahto, whose guidance and mentorship empowered him.

Now an LDD, Arun's next milestone is GDD. His vision to make Galway a household name in every village and enable self-reliance across India. "I want my downline to become even better than me," he says. That's why he regularly organizes training sessions and Triple R activities for his team.

His message to aspiring Galwians, Don't fear mistakes as they are part of learning. Don't fear failure, it's the result of effort. And never abandon your dreams, they will lead you to success. Pour your heart and soul into Galway, and watch how fast dreams come true. Arun Kumar Yadav's story is a beacon of hope for every individual who believes that success is out of reach from a small town with limited means. Galway has proven that with the right intent, direction, and dedication, anyone can rise and shine, just like Arun.

So don't just dream. Dare to live your dreams.

Harmohan Sahoo, LDD at Galway Business, has proved that when the goal is clear and the intentions are strong, any dream can be realised. For Harmohan Sahoo, who bought a new Kia Sonet car from Galway Car Bonus, this is not just a car, but a story of struggle, dedication and success.

This success is the result of his continuous hard work, unwavering dedication and unwavering faith. Many Galwians were witness to that proud moment when they received the keys of the car.

Bought the car of my dreams before marriage Rahul Kumar

RD Rahul Kumar's dream was to buy his own car before his marriage and go to his in-laws' house as a groom in the same car. Today his dream has become a reality because Rahul has recently purchased his Tata Nexon Smart Dream Car worth Rs. 12,50,000. Rahul Kumar is going to tie the knot on June 8, 2025 and before that he has also fulfilled the promise made to himself and his family.

Grow Organic Paddy for Better Health and Wealth

Part-1 (Sowing)

Dear farmer, When it comes to paddy, India is home to several varieties that are renowned worldwide for their taste and aroma. Unfortunately, in recent years, these special qualities have gradually started to diminish which is indeed a matter of concern.

India cultivates a wide range of paddy varieties. Some major types include Basmati rice, IRRI paddy, Golden Sonar rice, Sugandha paddy, Lowland paddy (Jaldhan), and High-yield paddy. It is very important to choose the right variety based on your region. For this, consult your nearest agricultural department or experienced farmers.

Paddy is a Kharif crop, typically sown during the monsoon season. Generally, paddy sowing takes place between June and July, when the rains begin. However, the exact timing depends on the variety of paddy and the local climate. In some regions, sowing may even begin in April or May if the monsoon arrives early.

Transplanting Time

There are two methods of paddy sowing, direct sowing and transplanting. In the transplanting method, seeds are first grown in a nursery and then transplanted into the main field. Transplanting is done 30–45 days after sowing, once the seedlings are strong enough. This typically takes place from mid-July to the end of August. Before transplanting, the field should have at least 5–7 centimeters of standing water to help the seedlings establish strong roots.

Seed Selection and Treatment

Choosing the right seeds is essential for a good yield. While selecting seeds, make sure the variety:

- Is suitable for high productivity
- Has strong disease resistance
- Offers higher yield potential

Now let's understand how we can grow paddy organically in our fields using Galway Krisham's organic products:

- First, treat the soil. For this, mix 1 liter of G-Bio Phosphate Advance with 100–150 kg of decomposed cow dung manure per acre. Let the mixture sit in the shade for 24 hours. After 24 hours, sprinkle it evenly across the field and then plough the land thoroughly.
- To treat the paddy seeds in the nursery, mix 10 ml of G-Bio Phosphate or 5 ml of G-Potash in 1 liter of water to prepare a solution. Use this solution to treat 1 kg of seeds, then dry them in the shade for 30 minutes before sowing.

- Once the nursery seedlings are ready, prepare a root treatment solution by mixing 1 liter of G-Bio Phosphate in 500 liters of water. Dip the roots of the seedlings in this solution to disinfect and nourish them.

- Transplanting: After treating the roots, transplant the seedlings into the prepared field.

Farmers, in this issue we have told you what should be the right time for sowing paddy keeping in mind the type of cultivation and how the organic products of Galway Krisham improve the health of the crop as well as your wealth in this process.
